Library system strains under demand

Library patrons line counter to check out books.
The library system is under heavy demand for services

BY DAVID A. FARRELL
The Hancock County library system might just be the most cost-effective governmental program financed by taxpayers' money, according to library director Prima Plauche.

While the system receives less than one per cent of the total local governmental budget, it serves about 66 percent of county residents.

Besides the main library at 312 Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis, facilities at Kiln and Waveland serve area residents, too.

And library officials are planning to double the space available at the main library and already have the funds allocated for the project. In addition, an expansion of the Kiln library facility is planned.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the main library expansion project are scheduled on Sept. 12 at 2 p.m.

But with that added square footage will come additional staffing and maintenance costs, and library officials will have to look for additional monies to support a system that is already straining to maintain programs, as demand for its services continues to grow, according to Plauche, who has directed the library program here since 1975.

"Over the last three years, we have experienced a 20 to 30 percent increase in usage. People are turning to the library for assistance, and our staff level has not been able to keep up with that kind of increase," said Plauche.

"And even worse, we are facing the possibility of having to reduce the staff further. And three positions that became vacant through attrition, still remain unfilled," she added.

"And our expenses keep rising, like everyone else's," she said.

For instance the average costs of placing a book on the shelves and entering it into the system is about $30 while some reference works can cost up to $2,500. And these reference works must be updated, too. Result: additional costs.

And the result of the rise in expenses of maintaining and updating the library system has resulted in lowering the collection of resource material available to the public through the system.

The expansion of the main library was a major step in a long-range plan developed for the library system here by a

Full Moon

Officers, doctors note behavior changes

BY LIZ HAAS

It was formerly believed that intermittent insanity was related to phases of the moon. Of such belief, the word lunacy grew, related to lunar, of or pertaining to the moon.

Since such time, many stories and movies have depicted humans turning into wolves as the full moon comes out.

Some people believe it is superstition that the full moon alters behavior, others believe it is fact.

It would be hard to find one person at the Hancock County Sheriff's Office who does not believe the full moon has some effect on behavior.

"It's something we talk about among ourselves," said Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

Peterson said he is not superstitious. "In my 20 years of experience in law enforcement, I have found that there is no doubt that we have more problems, more calls, more fighting, more domestic problems and more insane people calling us with problems around the full moon."

He said one year there were five murders in the county and four of them happened on or around the full moon.

"People seem to not be at ease during the full moon as much as when the moon is not full."

"And generally speaking, people are more violent during the full moon," he said.

Peterson said there are some people his office does not hear from until the moon is full, then they start calling with problems.

Chief Deputy Delbert Seay said, "It's a fact. When I was a bouncer at a bar, I would walk out and see that full moon and hesitate because I knew there were going to be problems—more fighting."

Peterson said a medical doctor in town told him that his theory is that the moon controls the tide and the water and since our bodies are mostly composed of water, it must also control our bodies.

He said that theory seems logical and makes sense.

"I guess it's kind of hard to believe, but from experience, we have seen that there are more problems around the full moon," he said.

He said his office dreads the full moon coming because they know they will have more problems.

"The general consensus around here is that when the moon gets full—prepare to be busy," said Peterson.

Mertie Hearty, who has been a dispatcher at the Sheriff's Office for the past four years, has initial contact with calls into

Gulfport woman is charged with murder in Ladner death

A Gulfport woman, Theresa Ann Faulk, 28, was charged on Friday with murder in connection with the death of Ola M. Ladner, 62, a Bay St. Louis native, who was found dead on Tuesday night.

Ladner disappeared in mid-July. His body was found in a ditch on Wolf River Road about one mile south of Cabel Bridge Road in Harrison County.

Three of his ribs were broken and his clothing was torn, officials said. The coroner for Harrison County said Ladner might

Resident's family hit by flooding

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The ravages of recent flooding in several states has Waveland resident Lew Powers concerned about his family and friends.

Powers reports his old family home is now under 30 feet of water west of Fieldon, Ill., because of flooding of the Illinois river.

Problems began on July 18 when a 12-mile levy broke and flooded 12,000 acres of farm land, sending 450 residents from their homes.

Powers has lived in Waveland 10 years and reports his parents lived on the farm for 41 years. They retired two years ago and moved to a town 20 miles east to higher ground.

Powers' sister has a 75-acre farm now under water and many of his relatives and childhood friends are in similar situations.

"My parent's church has set up a flood relief fund for those who are homeless and needy. They have mailed out letters to former members across the nation for donations. There are no salaries involved; all money goes directly to those needing it," Powers added.

Powers said he talks via telephone to his parents each night and his mother is helping the cause by cooking for volunteers and making arrangements for victims with counselors.

His father, a former levy commissioner, has also been involved by offering his expertise. The levy was constructed in 1932 and had been broken or overflowed.

The levy is approximately 30 feet high, and Powers is told it is now six to eight feet underwater and the river has not reached a final crest.

Powers recalled in 1973, while on active duty with the United States Navy, he was summoned home to help sandbag the levy during a flood threat, which was averted.

North Bay Elementary to offer non-graded/multi-age classrooms

BY LIZ HAAS

North Bay Elementary will offer three non-graded/multi-age classrooms this year to upcoming first, second and third grade students.

"The non-graded concept of grouping children together with disregard for age focuses on their individual differences and needs," said principal Kim Stasny.

Parents may decide between the non-graded and traditional classrooms.

Teachers in the pilot program are Mary Kay Deen, Barbara Schraeder and Lynda Hagy.

No grade designations are assigned for student achievement or grade level. This will require having the school board approve waiving the policy requiring teachers to issue grades to all students.

Stasny said, "If parents want a child in the program, we will do everything we can to get him in; but if they prefer the child to be in the traditional classroom, we will still have classes divided by age level."

Stasny said they already have half of the 75 slots filled for the program.

She said each of the classes will have a mix of first, second and third grade children to ensure each age level is represented, with a balance of girl:boy ratio and an ethnic balance.

Schraeder said, "When students enter the program, we start them at what they are ready for. Some learn more slowly than others, and when you let them, they learn more than if they are pushed to keep up with something they're not ready for yet."

Deen said grouping assesses them. "If we find that a student needs work in a particular area, we can focus on that," she said.

"Theoretically, if a 7- or 8-year-old finishes the primary unit, she would then move to the fourth grade; but since our program is not district-wide, she would remain in the program and progress with her age group to the fourth grade," said Schraeder.

"If a child completes the basic unit, he continues to progress on his own," said Deen.

Schraeder said, "As long as they're progressing, they're doing great."

of the levy protecting the farmers in delta of the river in Powers' old hometown.

Powers says many of the victims are residing in a school house five miles away in Fieldon, while others are with relatives or in tents.

The valley where farms are located is now a restricted area, and the only way landowners can view their properties is by securing a pass from National Guardsmen.

Powers said last week his mother went to check out their old homestead. From the side of a hill the only landmark visible was the roof of a neighbor's very tall barn.

National Guardsmen are now housed in the old high school of Powers in Jerseyville, Ill.

Helicopters are the mode of transportation for those needing medical help in the areas. "A trip from Hardin, Ill. in Calhoun County, next door to Jersey County, prior to flooding was 15 minutes. Now it is a 150-mile trip if you can get through," Powers reported.

One of the problems facing farmers whose properties have remained dry is transporting their products to market.

Calhoun County is a big peach producer, and crops are ripe and remain on the trees in the fields, Powers has been told.

Soybean and corn crops have been the most affected by flooding.

Powers said a former neighbor who resides on a hillside has to keep a hoe at her door to fight off snakes moving out of the flood.

There are propane tanks, grain bins, hog sheds and even homes floating in the valley.

Sour grain and other debris are giving off a terrible odor and will probably cause a tremendous cleanup cost, Powers reported.

Powers, a sales consultant for a salon supply in Gulfport, reports his customers, friends and co-workers have been very generous and concerned about the situation. He has forwarded the donations to his church for distribution.

Powers emphasized, "On a local level, if there is a church, group or individuals who would like to help, it would be really appreciated."

Send donations to: Fieldon United Church of Christ, P.O. Box 70, Fieldon, Ill. 62301.

He has sent checks and cash to his former church.

For further information, call Powers at 467-1801, after 7 p.m. evenings or weekends.

A Child is Loaned.
"I'll lend you for a little time a child of Mine," he said, "for you to love the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead."

It may be six or seven years, or twenty-two or three,

But will you, till I call him back take care of him for Me? He'll bring his charms to gladden you; and should his staying be brief,

You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief.

I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth return,

But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn.

I've looked this wide world over in My search for teachers true.

And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes, I have selected you.

Now will you give him all your love, nor think the labor vain,

Nor hate Me when I come to call and take him back again?

I fancied that I heard them say: "Dear Lord, your will be done."

For all the joy your child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run, We'll shelter him tenderness, we'll love him while we may; And for the happiness we've known, forever grateful stay.

But should the angels call for him much sooner than we've planned,

We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."

Free self-esteem classes offered

During August there will be a class free to the public on the topic of "Building a Healthy Self-esteem."

The class will meet four Fridays at Serenity Book Store, 126½ Main Street from 2-3:30 p.m. It will be geared to high school and college age students, although any age person is welcome.

A healthy self-esteem is made up of many factors. The class will explore the facets of emotional nurturing and support, perceptions, communication and success as they occur in the developing personality.

The design of the class will be experiential, with some lecture and group discussion.

"Group members will learn how to use affirmations and how to write realistic goals. They will also learn some effective skills to use when dealing with hurt feelings, loss, frustration and anger. They will learn how to appropriately give and receive compliments," said moderator Dorothy Porter.

Porter is a registered nurse in the community with a degree in counseling psychology.

nationally noted library consultant.

But the consultant also left library officials here with some disturbing conclusions: the library system is understaffed and underfunded based on the services it is having to give a demanding public.

"We found that our perception with the community and individuals is good," said Plauche, "but to do a better job as a full-service library, we need more staff and more funding."

"But I am optimistic," she added. "The community is growing, and we will have to grow with it to meet the demands."

Most think the library is only there for citizens to visit and check out a book to read. That's true, Plauche points out, but the library system is much more.

This summer over 600 children participated in the library system's summer reading program, and an adult literacy program, funded mostly by the state, helps teach residents to read.

And the literacy program is not just a clinic to teach persons to read. Taught also in the program are mathematics, job skills and self-esteem workshops.

Said Plauche: "Many of the people in the program have problems other than just reading in their lives, although the inability to read and comprehend contributes to all their problems."

She added, "We have about 40 volunteers who help in this program, and we refer participants to other programs that might help them, too. It takes a lot of people to run this program since a lot of the instruction is one-on-one."

The literacy program is run exclusively out of the Waveland library, 333 Coleman Avenue.

And while the library system continues to maintain these summer children projects and literacy programs, it continues to handle a tremendous volume of requests for help.

Last year 34,095 residents used library facilities in some way, and the staff processed 8,971 requests for help in locating research or resource material.

And some requests take days to fill, says Plauche.

And besides all this, the system is daily helping elementary, high school and college students find reading material and information for reports and research projects.

One of the positions that has gone unfilled for about five years is that of child librarian, or children's service specialist, who would be handling the summer programs for children.

But implementation of those programs has fallen to other library staff, who are already stretched with maintaining other library services, too.

"Last year we were not able to conduct our Garfield reading program because of a lack of personnel," said Plauche.

Funding from all sources this fiscal year will total about $364,000, and library officials are planning to ask for more funding for the upcoming fiscal year.

"Most think we get a large sum from the state and federal government to run the system, but we don't," said Plauche.

Full Moon

the office.

"Starting the week before and even the week after the full moon, we have more calls and more problems," she said.

She said most of the calls are domestic and fighting. "It's strange," she said.

"I don't know if it's a scientific fact, all I can tell you is that from experience it is true here," said Peterson.

"I started getting some strange calls and more of them a few days ago, and I looked at the other dispatcher and said 'Something is up' and sure enough the full moon is coming," said Hearty.

The next full moon is Monday, August 2.

Sheriff's Deputy Kenny Hurt, who has been with the department for nine years, said, "I didn't believe it at first, but you can really tell the difference. I always heard that the wild ones come out during the full moon, and they do."

Hancock County Justice Facility Warden Gerald Nacaise reported that even the inmates get more restless, more demanding and more short-tempered during the full moon.

"A study done by the New York Police Department on this matter revealed that most violent crimes take place during the time of the full moon, you know, more domestic problems against people," he said.

Bay St. Louis Police Detective Tom Burleson said, "Some of the supervisors and I agree that we do get busier during the full moon, but we don't know why."

He said the station answers more calls and can see an increase in domestic violence cases and fights.

Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell said the full moon causing more problems is something you can just count on.

He has worked in Emergency Medical Services, Fire Department and Police Department work since 1979.

"I don't know anyone in those lines of work that doesn't believe that it's true," he said. He said the police department sees more domestic problems, fighting and calls from the mentally disturbed.

Varnell said, "It's a fact here that we have increased problems around the full moon."

"If the full moon doesn't get you, after the full moon will," he said.

Varnell said he has no idea why this happens. "It must affect something in your body," he said.

"I guess that's why they refer to the mentally disturbed as lunatics—somebody way back when knew something too," he said.

Gulfport Mobile Medic supervisor David Nimms said, "I haven't noticed any increase or decrease in the number of problems during the full moon. It could be, but we haven't seen anything out of the normal here."

Nimms said, however, that the full moon does have an effect on pregnant women.

"It's true that pressures during the full moon can cause women to give birth," he said. Bay St. Louis Doctor Dimitri Yanez, OBGYN, said, "From my experience, it seems like there is more activity in OB during the full moon for some reason."

Yanez said the full moon definitely affects his work, but he is not sure exactly how.

"It has something to do with the changes in gravity during the full moon and those kinds of pulls has an effect on bodies of water, but how it is involved with the onset of labor, we don't really know," he said.

"If they don't progress, then we can hold them back. This program, however, takes away the stigma of failure," said Deen.

She said, "Teachers we talked with who've done this program said many of their students have progressed further because they were not limited."

Children will write reflections on the process of learning and will discover their areas of understanding and areas where they need to set goals for further learning.

Deen said, "We set up all children to be winners and have constant contact with their parents."

The program designed to have teachers and parents see where the child is and the progress he or she is making.

"We feel like the information is greater when we show parents their child's work combined with narratives from teachers on the progress. That is a lot more information on a child than a number on a report card," said Deen.

She said, "Often teachers are driven by testing which reduces the learning to bits of information and specific skills. When you do that you reduce the process."

Deen said textbooks will be used as resource materials, not a guiding force in the classroom.

Stasny said the authentic assessment removes the competition that grades create.

Progress is reported in terms of tasks completed and the manner of learning, not by grades or rating systems. This allows for continuous progress and replaces the competitive-comparative evaluation system.

Deen said grades have very little positive effect on learning.

"The research we have found on multi-age classrooms proves that this kind of environment drastically reduces the dropout pattern because all people are valued and all learning is valued," said Deen.

"Any testing will be done in a way that is not number-based. We will write comments and use the test as a learning tool for both the student and teacher," said Schraeder.

Teachers have received training in process teaching, writing across the curriculum, portfolio assessment and multi-age classrooms through workshops, research, observations, institutions of higher learning and hands-on experience.

Stasny said special education children with learning disabilities have previously been self-contained in academics from classmates.

"They will be included in this program and the special education teacher can assist them if they need extra help," said Stasny.

Stasny said children in the gifted program will also participate in this program.

"The greater the range of academic levels, the better the program," said Deen.

Stasny said the students will still receive the traditional academic skills like English and math, but it will be on the entire picture instead of bits and pieces.

Deen said, "Nothing is left out that the traditional classroom is expected to cover, but the process is different."

Authentic assessment will be done through portfolio assessments. Children will select the work to be included in their portfolio and write a reflection on why they have included that work. Work will be dated so their progression can be seen by them, the parents and teachers.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

A special cleanup of central Bay St. Louis is scheduled for Friday, August 6, in preparation for a commemorative service for the late Cindy Lizana Acker.

The group involving the Hancock County Chapter of the NAACP, FACE, RSVP, Chamber, S.O.S., civic groups, and volunteers will meet at Commagere Park at 8 a.m. on Friday for a morning cleanup.

Among the areas to be cleaned will include Sycamore, Washington, Watts, St. Francis, Old Spanish Trail, Necaise and other streets.

Refreshments will be available for those participating.

Geraldine Lang, president of the NAACP reports, the cleanup is for participation by all residents of the Bay and Waveland, and she is hoping there will be a large number of youths along with their parents.

District Attorney Cono Caranna, promoter of FACE, will also be on hand with several volunteers from Harrison County.

Cindy Lizana Acker was well loved in the community and it would be a great memorial to her if a large number of her former students would participate in this cleanup.

With the help of everyone, Hancock County could be Litter Free in '93.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's After Hours will be held on Thursday at Peoples Bank, U.S. Highway 90, 5 to 7 p.m.

The Peoples Bank is this month's sponsor, and all chamber members and guests are invited.

The hostess, Jeannie Deen, will also be recognized for her recent promotion as Vice-President of Peoples Bank. Deen is the branch manager of Peoples Bank in Bay St. Louis.

Admission is two business cards.

Summer time seems to be shrinking every year for the youngsters as school bells ring earlier and earlier.

Tomorrow two weeks, and Bay-Waveland students will be answering the bell.

I realize there are several breaks in the school year now which were not there several years ago. It still seems that youngsters should have a few more weeks of summer vacation.

Summer vacations are a part of growing up. I really enjoyed my summers, even though I worked, time was found to enjoy myself.

I hope all students did have a very enjoyable summer, and you always have next summer.

Fourth celebration

A big Fourth of July celebration was held on Front Street (Beach Boulevard) Bay St. Louis in 1911 to celebrate the holiday. The beach was lined with Model T Fords as they passed in front of St. Stanislaus College, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, St. Joseph Academy and other businesses. The building on the right from where the photo was taken was known as the night club The Seagull. (Photo submitted by Joseph Noto, Bay St. Louis.) LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Misinformation by media cause of Bourgeois' problems

Dear Editor:

This letter is in response to Mrs. Sandra Gray's letter to the editor which you entitled "Children deserve top priority in school system."

Apparently this letter is in response to a previous article written by your paper in which once again the media has taken a comment of mine out of context and printed it without benefit of background information.

I couldn't agree more with Mrs. Gray that children should be the single most important entity in any school district. I am delighted to report that children are, in fact, the central figures in the Hancock County School district.

If anyone would like to carefully examine any decision I have made since my election to the position of superintendent, he or she would know, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that every one of those decisions has been wholly based on what's in the student's best interest.

It might prove of interest to Mrs. Gray and your other readers that when I came on as superintendent, the board chose to cut my salary down from the salary that the previous male superintendent had been given.

I believe that in spite of my being a female, I have the right to expect the same salary consideration as my predecessor. Also, as superintendent, I should be an example to the 50% of our students who are female by showing them that it is not acceptable to be treated as a second class citizen. I hope that they will have the courage to stand up for their rights just as I am doing.

On a personal note, how do you feel, Mrs. Gray, when a man in the same position as you earns a higher salary?

In an administrative hierarchy, the superintendent has the full responsibility of every child, every teacher, every principal, every bus driver, every employee and every activity that occurs in any and all schools.

In Hancock County I personally am responsible for 340 employees and 3000+ students. As an elected official, my responsibility is not an 8 to 5 one; rather it is a 24-hour, 7-day a week responsibility — one that I take seriously.

As an elected official, I also endure the ridiculous cheap shots like Mrs. Gary's and others that are the result of misinformation put out by the media.

Perhaps the greatest disappointment of my administration is the realization that some citizens obviously would rather read and believe distortions, half-truths, and untruths that might make a dramatic story, rather than know the truth.

As we grow as a community, it is my hope that we can rise above pettiness and trivialities and work cooperatively together so that all Hancock County families might have a caring, concerned community in which to live and work and a place where all our students can grow to their potential. That is my mission. What is yours?

Sincerely,

Myrna L. Bourgeois,
Superintendent
Hancock County
School System

Citizens should organize to help with burial of needy

Dear Editor,

I found out July 26 that the citizens of Hancock County do not have any place to go for help for financial support to bury a relative. We haven't any agencies that I know of to address this particular issue, other than our Hancock County Board of Supervisors. The board of supervisors has funds to address transient persons who die in our county. The sum of $500 can be used for funeral expenses for the burial of such transients.

We are wondering what can be done for the citizens of our community who get in a bind of this sort. We already now that there should be insurance for this purpose. When one doesn't have it, where do we go? Shall we leave the body to decompose with no burial?

Since we have no place to file a claim of this kind, it would be nice if the citizens of this community find the need for an organization which we can pay membership to and donate to so that we may have funds available to help a family that has this problem.

So please put on a thinking cap and pool together our thoughts as well as some resources and make it grow for the needs of our citizens. With the proper policies and procedures it can be successful. Positive attitudes can change everything.

We can open an account to address such needs, and after so much is deposited, we can organize with as many as would want to, so that they may have an input into the disbursement of such funds.

Those of you who have an interest should start thinking of opening an account and organizing a needs club. Let's put it together, folks, 'cause it can work.

Sincerely,
Geraldine Lang

Circuit Clerk-Registrar Lamar Otis reported 10,286 qualified electors as of July 1, 1968. There were increases in all but one beat, but the biggest was Beat 5 covering Bay St. Louis and Waveland. The total for Beat 5 is now 6,749, or 67% of the county's qualified electors.

If the owners don't remove mailboxes, shrubs, posts and the like by the deadline, the county will do the job.

Bayou Caddy could become premier attractive

This is a follow-up to my letter to the editor printed in the Sea Coast Echo Thursday, July 29 and a reply to my critics.

First, I do not see Bayou Caddy Casino becoming one of the "biggies" among the Coast casinos. I don't think it will develop into one of the "take over everything" types, but will mainly interest the recreation or low-roller kind of gambler and will be more compatible with what I perceive.

I see Harrison County being completely lost to the family-type vacationer. Why? Casino takeover, increased price of food and lodging, traffic gridlock...

Where will this business go? The Gulf Shore, Pensacola, Panama City or Clermont Harbor. Surprised? Read on.

Advantages: Near the market (New Orleans, Baton Rouge, upstate Mississippi); a couple of miles or so of beachfront that can have sand beaches pumped in; easy access to, but safely away from Highway 90 traffic; comparatively low real estate values (for now); novelty of being able to closely observe a fishing fleet, opportunity for interesting helicopter or small plane rides, coastal fishing charters and sightseeing excursions. This is as yet an undiscovered area.

Disadvantages: Need for central water and sewage; police and fire protection; reasonable insurance rates, and not alignment with a political structure that can or would provide these things. Most importantly, there is no zoning or master plan for development.

My vision is for this area to be developed along the line of Panama City beach, or the way Biloxi beach used to be, without the sleaze.

We can have Biloxi's cake. Impossible? Buccaneer State Park was one of three huge trash dumps for Hurricane Camille debris. It cost the State Park Commission $60,000 (1973 dollars) to clean it up. We talked the State Park Commission, and then Governor Waller, into the development of his site as a park. Almost everyone at the state level thought it would fail, but look at it now.

It will serve as the eastern anchor for the type of development that I perceive as needed.

Adult attractions on the west end, children's attractions on the east end and bathing beauties up and down the beach for me. What's wrong with that?

Commemoration service to speak out against crime and violence

The Hancock County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is sponsoring a commemoration service August 7, at 11 a.m. to speak out against crime and violence in the community.

The public is urged to attend the service, "Passing the Torch...Preparing for a Better Tomorrow," at Martin Luther King Park on Washington Street in Bay St. Louis.

It is being held to demonstrate outrage at the continued violence in the community as the community approaches the first anniversary of the tragic death of beloved school teacher Lucinda Lizana Acker.

Fr. Francis Theriault of St.

Rose de Lima Catholic Church said, "We urge everyone to come join us as we demonstrate our desire, our demand that violence and crime come to an end, because it is killing us and we have had enough."

Members of the Church communities, law enforcement departments and political leaders will speak out against crime and violence.

"They will also offer definite programs to alleviate the crime and violence we abhor so much," said Theriault.

"We are disturbed by the violence and crime in our city and the useless loss of life by those who perpetrate crime, like Darrell Robinson, who was killed in a criminal act, and young Cedric Walker, who died in prison under strange circumstances," he said.

Save Our Children (SOC), grew out of the education task force formed by the outraged citizens last August over the loss of Acker.

He said, "The drug addiction and drug trafficking has imprisoned too many of our young people," he said.

The purpose of SOC is to offer youth definite programs to raise their expectations, hopes and ambitions as they move into adulthood.

"SOC hopes that our young people will grow up to be good Christians and useful citizens in our community. We offer to all our youth the hand of friendship and the opportunity to develop their God-given talents for the good of all," said Theriault.

The commemoration service schedule includes an invocation by Rev. Lee Morris followed by speeches on purpose by Rev. Bobby Dailey of Valena C. Jones Methodist Church and Fr. Theriault.

Comments will be made by the following officials, Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre, Hancock County Board of Supervisors president Mike Ladner and D.A. Cono Caranna.

Comments will also be made by Bay City Councilman Thomas Farve, Maurice Singleton of the Veteran Civic Club, Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil, a representative of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Schools and State Representative J.P. Compretta.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson and Hancock County NAACP president Geraldine Lang will also speak.

A benediction will precede serving of refreshments.

"This is a philosophy where children learn how to learn. Hopefully, it creates children who become life-long learners because they know how to find information," said Deen.

"They will learn their own problem solving—learning the method most relevant to them. They will then share in small learning groups that will teach them cooperative learning and leadership skills," said Deen.

The school is located at 740 Dunbar Avenue.

The school board will meet August 2, at 7 p.m. concerning the matter.

have died from a heart attack as the result of a beating.

Faulk has been in the Harrison County jail since July 17 on burglary, public drunkenness and contempt of court charges.

She is scheduled for an initial appearance in court on Monday.

Harrison County Sheriff Joe Price said that more persons might have been involved in the murder and that authorities suspected Faulk after matching information with the jail roster.

Price gave little other information on the investigation.

Ladner was last seen at about 9:30 p.m. on July 14 at the Waffle House on U.S. 90 in Gulfport. He earlier had attended a wake and stopped there for a cup of coffee.

His white Cadillac was later found outside a Pass Christian lounge and his dentures, glasses and traces of blood were found in the back seat of the car.

Ladner was buried on Saturday. See obituary on page 2.

Universal access may end the 'Medicaid Trap'

By Janet K. Lockman
Area Consumer Money Management Specialist

All too often I have worked with a young family only to find a roadblock in the system that prevents members of the family from working. This roadblock is the threat of losing medical care for the children through Medicaid.

Clinton's Health Care Reform promises to bring about a sort of welfare reform by removing this roadblock for families. Parents will not fear loss of health care because of working to support their families. Universal access, or health care for all, a cornerstone of the health care plan, frees the family from this bondage to Medicaid.

Clinton's plan promises to provide health care to 37 million uninsured Americans. Obvious questions related to this promise are, how will the plan be financed and how will costs be controlled?

A recent USDA Cooperative Extension Service teleconference, "Counties Care for America" brought discussions in health system reform to local officials and interested citizens in our area.

Two primary concerns voiced

by county officials throughout the nation were controlling costs and the level at which decision-making will occur.

Administration officials give few specifics on how spiraling costs will be controlled. Their goal is to slow growth of health combine the best of government regulation and market competition.

Large purchasing alliances will shop for the highest-quality, lowest-cost health coverage. The government would require insurance companies, HMOs and other health plans to offer a standard package of services when bidding for business. The huge network's buying power should generate competition among health plans and gradually lower costs.

Financing the health care plan, however, will be still be a burden for employers and taxpayers to bear.

A survey by Arthur Andersen Enterprise Group and National Small Business United indicated that 41 percent of small businesses were concerned about increasing costs. This additional cost to employers is expected to come in the form of a payroll tax or flat premium for each employee.

Some estimate that as many as 61,000 jobs could be lost as a result of a payroll premium to finance health care reform.

Though the additional burden is certain, local governments have been assured of flexibility in carrying out health reform. County and state officials at the Extension Service teleconference were told that local governments would have opportunities to provide coverage and control spending within specific spending targets set in the plan.

The major cost control measure in the plan is "managed competition" which proposes a method of financing and delivering health care. It attempts to

Saltwater sport fishing licenses available here

Demand for Mississippi saltwater sport fishing licenses has been so great that the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks has added six additional agents to its Bureau of Marine Resources offices in Biloxi.

"The response has been overwhelming," said Pat McDaniel, supervisor of license sales. "We added the additional agents in order to meet the public's demands and speed up the process," McDaniel added.

Effective July 1, 1993, saltwater anglers must purchase a saltwater sport fishing license. The fee is $4 for an annual resident license and $20 for an annual non-resident license. A three-day non-resident "trip" license is also available for $6.

Louisiana residents are required to have, on their person, both a non-resident saltwater fishing license and a freshwater fishing license.

Saltwater licenses must be used from south of Hwy. 90 to the Barrier boundary. Freshwater or saltwater licenses are valid between Interstate 10 and Hwy. 90.

Freshwater licenses must be used north of Interstate 10. Persons fishing on a charter boat will not have to purchase a saltwater fishing license.

Local licensing agents include Noel R. Fuente, Western Auto Assoc. Store, 852 Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis; Ernest J. Bradley, Jimmy Dian's Fishing Camp, 840 Clark Street, Pass

Christian; Donna Holland, S & H Grocery, 264 Washington St., Bay St. Louis; P.A. McElveen, Kmart, 344 Hwy. 90 West, Waveland;

Universal access may end the 'Medicaid Trap'

By Janet K. Lukens
Area Consumer Money Management Specialist

All too often I have worked with a young family only to find a roadblock in the system that prevents members of the family from working. This roadblock is the threat of losing medical care for the children through Medicaid.

Clinton's Health Care Reform promises to bring about a sort of welfare reform by removing this roadblock for families. Parents will not fear loss of health care because of working to support their families. Universal access, or health care for all, a cornerstone of the health care plan, frees the family from this bondage to Medicaid.

Clinton's plan promises to provide health care to 37 million uninsured Americans. Obvious questions related to this promise are, how will the plan be financed and how will costs be controlled?

A recent USDA/Cooperative Extension Service teleconference, "Counties Care for America" brought discussions on Health System Reform to local officials and interested citizens in our area.

Two primary concerns voiced

by county officials throughout the nation were controlling costs and the level at which decision-making will occur.

Administration officials give few specifics on how spiraling costs will be controlled. Their goal is to slow growth of health

Universal access may end the 'Medicaid Trap'

By Janet K. Lukens

Area Consumer Money Management Specialist

All too often I have worked with a young family only to find a roadblock in the system that prevents members of the family from working. This roadblock is the threat of losing medical care for the children through Medicaid.

Clinton's Health Care Reform promises to bring about a sort of welfare reform by removing this roadblock for families. Parents will not fear loss of health care because of working to support their families. Universal access, or health care for all, a cornerstone of the health care plan, frees the family from this bondage to Medicaid.

Clinton's plan promises to provide health care to 37 million uninsured Americans. Obvious questions related to this promise are, how will the plan be financed and how will costs be controlled?

A recent USDA/Cooperative Extension Service teleconference, "Counties Care for America," brought discussions on Health System Reform to local officials and interested citizens in our area.

Two primary concerns voiced

by county officials throughout the nation were controlling costs and the level at which decision-making will occur.

Administration officials give few specifics on how spiraling costs will be controlled. Their goal is to slow growth of health combine the best of government regulation and market competition.

Large purchasing alliances will shop for the highest-quality, lowest-cost health coverage. The government would require insurance companies, HMOs and other health plans to offer a standard package of services when bidding for business. The huge network's buying power should generate competition among health plans and gradually lower costs.

Financing the health care plan, however, will be still be a burden for employers and taxpayers to bear.

A survey by Arthur Andersen Enterprise Group and National Small Business United indicated that 81 percent of small businesses were concerned about increasing cost. This additional cost to employers is expected to come in the form of a payroll tax or flat premium for each employee.

Some estimate that as many as 63,000 jobs could be lost as a result of a payroll premium to finance health care reform.

Though the additional burden is certain, local governments have been assured of flexibility in carrying out health reform. County and state officials at the Extension Service teleconference were told that local governments would have opportunities to provide coverage and control spending within specific spending targets set in the plan.

To add services for 37 million people at current delivery of services cost levels, who add an estimated $35 to $70 billion dollars to the $1 trillion currently spent by our nation on health care.

care costs rather than to curtail it.

The major cost control measure in the plan is "managed competition" which proposes a method of financing and delivering health care. It attempts to

Saltwater sport fishing licenses available here

Demand for Mississippi saltwater sport fishing licenses has been so great that the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks has added six additional agents to its Bureau of Marine Resources offices in Biloxi.

"The response has been overwhelming," said Pat McDaniel, supervisor of license sales. "We added the additional agents in order to meet the public's demands and speed up the process," McDaniel added.

Effective July 1, 1993, saltwater anglers must purchase a saltwater sport fishing license. The fee is $4 for an annual resident license and $20 for an annual non-resident license. A three-day non-resident "trip" license is also available for $6. Louisiana residents are required to have, on their person, both a non-resident saltwater fishing license and a freshwater fishing license.

Saltwater licenses must be used from south of Hwy. 90 to the Barrier boundary. Freshwater or saltwater licenses are valid between Interstate 10 and Hwy. 90.

Freshwater licenses must be used north of Interstate 10. Persons fishing on a charter boat will not have to purchase a saltwater fishing license.

Local licensing agents include Noel R. Fuente, Western Auto Assoc. Store, 852 Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis; Ernest J. Bradley, Jimmy Dian's Fishing Camp, 840 Clark Street, Pass

Christian, Donna Holland, S & H Grocery, 264 Washington St., Bay St. Louis; P.A. McElveen, Kmart, 344 Hwy. 90 West, Waveland;

The joint installation of the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post and Auxiliary Unit 139 officers was Friday, July 23, at the Post home on Green Meadow Road.

Commander Joe Bermond opened the meeting, the color bearers advanced the colors and the Chaplain read the opening prayers.

The regular business was dispensed by vote, and the commander introduced the visiting guests from Post 77 and other notables from the local area. He then handed the gavel to president Susan Piazza to being the auxiliary segment of the activity.

Piazza called on Mattie North, auxiliary member of the year, and presented her with a plaque and sash and 'hat,' and congratulated her for achieving a 100 percent goal in membership.

Lou Wilkerson installed the following 1993-94 officers: president, Susan Piazza; first vice president, Janelle Neceise; second vice president, Shirley Clemons; secretary, Margaret Prevou; treasurer, Bobby Tomlinson; historian, Gertrude Duthu;

Chaplain, Ursula Favre; color bearers, Roslyn Weathers and Hazel Wohlschlegel; sergeant-at-arms, Clara Arnold; executive committee, Jackie Bufkin, Judy Gavney and Jeannette Ladner.

Piazza presented Wilkerson a gift from the unit and commended her for an outstanding job as state president. She also presented Jennifer Piazza a gift for the accomplishments during her term of office.

On display at a nearby table were the awards given to the unit at the recent convention in Natchez July 15-18.

The men's installation of officers followed the program. Following the close of the meeting, dinner was prepared by members of the post and served by the ladies of the auxiliary.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy

Supermarket bargains include lean beef
pork shoulder roast

"Beef up" your menus without breaking the family budget this week at our area supermarkets! They're featuring various cuts of lean beef at good savings.

Boneless beef round steaks are a stand-out in value and taste, for instance, and "cook up" in so many tasty ways. For instance, there are the grillades which are so much a part of Creole cuisine, and usually served with grits. There's smothered steak and onions, also, and a long list of other dishes.

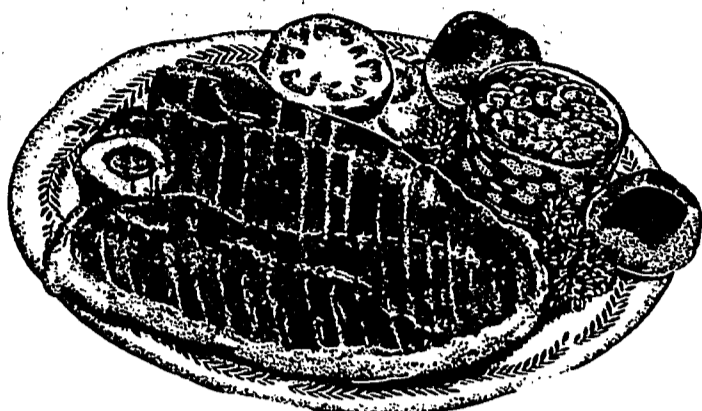

So, while a rather large boneless round steak is snoozing in red wine and seasonings in my fridge, I'm debating which of various ways I shall cook it. Oh, I think I'll ask a couple of friends over for brunch and cook that old favorite, grillades. Veal used to be the meat in this dish, but many cooks are now using round steak in:

1 lb. beef round steak
Cayenne pepper to taste,
salt optional
1/2 cup oil

1 large onion, thinly sliced
1 large bell (green) pepper, chopped
Hot pepper sauce to your taste and tolerance

lower the eat. Simmer for 45 minutes or so, until the meat is tender, then add splashes of hot pepper sauce, and serve over cooked grits. And, don't

(This is a cut-the-corner quick recipe for today's cooks.
Cut the round into serving pieces, seasoning with cayenne and salt, if you're using salt. Heat the oil in a heavy skillet, and add the steak pieces. Cook until they brown, turn and brown the other side.

Add the onion and bell pepper, cover the pan tightly and forget the biscuits! (4 servings).

Boneless beef rump roasts, sirloin tip roasts, and lean beef tips and ground beef are also good buys. And, in the pork department you'll not go wrong on a fresh picnic shoulder roast or quarter loins cut into chops, or shank or butt halves of hams.

Breastfeeding Awareness Month focuses on educating mothers

According to UNICEF, between 3,000 and 4,000 babies die every day from diarrhea and acute respiratory infections even though breastfeeding could have saved their lives.

The World Alliance for Breastfeeding Action encourages this lifesaving behavior worldwide; with support from UNICEF, they've declared
August 1-7 as World Breast-feeding Week.

In Mississippi, Governor
Kirk Fordice has proclaimed August Breastfeeding Awareness Month.

The Mississippi WIC Program — the federally-funded

Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children — plans special breastfeeding promotion activities during August. WIC provides nutritious food to some 110,000 women and children, including some 30,000 infants.

"Mothers give their babies so much more than food when they breastfeed," said Debbi Webb, WIC breastfeeding promotion coordinator. "Babies get some immunities against disease and a perfect balance of vitamins and minerals for their first months of life. And, economically, breastfeeding is a great benefit, especially for low-income families."

Webb works with other WIC staff members to create programs to encourage breastfeeding. One of the most successful — peer counseling — has drawn attention at the region and national levels.

Acting USDA regional director, Charlie Simmons, Supplemental Food Programs, said peer counseling is one of the best ways of providing breast-feeding support.

Simmons said that the Department of Agriculture, the administrative agency for the WIC Program, support sincreasing breastfeeding rates.
But, he said, "It's only through the efforts of individual states, like Mississippi, that this goal can be realized."

State breastfeeding promotion leaders met in Jackson for the second meeting of the Mississippi Breastfeeding Promotion Coalition on May 26. The group discussed barriers mothers face in breastfeeding;
they also looked for ways to overcome these barriers.

For more information about breastfeeding or the Breast-feeding Promotion Coalition, readers may call Debbi Webb in Gulfport at 831-4353, the Mississippi WIC Program in Jackson at 1-800-359-7832, or local coordinator, Keitha Whitaker, at 831-5382 in Gulfport.

Passport stamps commemorate park's anniversaries

The 1993 National and Regional stamps for the popular booklet, "Passport to Your National Parks," are available at the visitor centers of Gulf Islands National Seashore now, announced Superintendent Jerry Eubanks.

For the first time, this year's Passport stamps will be available as a sheet depicting nine regional stamps and the national stamp.

The 1993 Passport stamps commemorate parks having significant anniversaries in 1993. Four the Passport stamps feature National Park Service Units celebrating 25th anniversaries. The remaining six stamps highlight parks commemorating other significant anniversaries this year.

The 1993 National stamp celebrates the 50th anniversary of the former Jackson Hole National Monument, now a part of Grand Teton National Park. This stamp features the majestic Teton Range, photographed by National Park Service employee Leo Larson. In 1929 this mountain range and smaller lakes at the base of the mountains were protected and established as Grand Teton National Park.

The history of Jackson Hole National Monument dates back to 1943. Pressured by the Rockefeller's need to dispose land they had purchased, protected, and paid taxes on for 15 years, President Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaimed areas of Jackson Hole a National monument.

These areas included parts of the valley floor, Jackson Lake, and the Snake River. In 1950 Jackson Hole National Monument joined the Teton Range and lands, donated by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. to form the present day Grand Teton National Park.

The Southeast Regional Stamp features Wright Brothers National Memorial, on the Outer Banks of North Carolina. This national memorial marks the site of the first successful flight of a heavier-than-air machine, which was accomplished Dec. 17, 1903, by Wilbur and Orville Wright.

The Wright Monument Shaft was established to honor the phenomenal achievements of the Wright Brothers. Neither graduated from high school nor attended college. The 60-foot high gray granite monument, photographed by National Park Service volunteer Mike Booher, stands atop a 90-foot-high dune named Kill Devil Hill.

The brothers conducted most of their flying experiments at Kill Devil Hills instead of Kitty Hawk, the name usually associated with their first flight. A large granite boulder marks the spot where the first airplane left the ground.

This national memorial also includes reconstructions and the hangar and the adjoining workshop and living quarters build by the brothers in 1903.

Pass booklets and the 1993 stamp sheets can be purchased at Eastern National outlets at Gulf Islands National Seashore. In Florida, these outlets are located at Naval Live Oaks Visitor Center, Fort Pickens Visitor Center, and Fort Barrancas Visitor Center.

In Mississippi, the outlet at the William M. Colmer Visitor Center in Ocean Springs has the passports and stamp sheets for purchase. Cost of the passport is $4.95 plus tax and cost of the stamp sheets is $2.95 plus tax.

"The Passport Program has continued to be a success since its introduction in 1988," stated Superintendent Eubanks. For more information call (904) 934-2600 in Florida or (601) 876-0821 in Mississippi.

BUILDING BOMBS

Concrete floors turned spongy by years of radiation bombardment. Radioactive turtles loose in the wilderness. Nuclear waste buried in shallow ditches — in ordinary cardboard boxes. Sounds like a futuristic sci-fi world run amok?

"Building Bombs: The Legacy" will have its national broadcast premiere on POV on Tuesday, Aug. 20 at 9 p.m. on Channel 12. This investigative point-of-view film reports that these problems aren't fanciful fiction, but hard fact, and they're to be found at the Savannah River Site, which formerly manufactured hydrogen bomb materials — and at other nuclear facilities across America.

Filmmakers spent more than five years researching and producing the 1990 Academy Award-nominated Building Bombs and joined forces again this spring for Building Bombs: The Legacy.

Endangered/threatened Gulf species studied by NRL

Special to the Echo

Physical scientist Coleman Levenson can be found more often in the skies above the Gulf of Mexico than behind his desk at the Naval Research Laboratory (NRL) Stennis Space Center.

Levenson is principal investigator for an NRL project studying threatened and endangered species in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Levenson, Robert J. Esher of the Mississippi State University Research Center, and James E. Anderson of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration routinely fly the shelf waters of the northern Gulf south of Mobile, Ala. to determine distribution and abundance of endangered and threatened species.

According to Levenson, populations of sea turtles and most marine mammals are in a state of decline, and information on the distribution and abundance of these threatened and endangered species in the northern Gulf of Mexico is limited.

"This basically means that we're looking for cetaceans (porpoises, whales, dolphins) and marine turtles," said Levenson. "We're trying to relate these findings to oceanographic parameters that occur in the Gulf-frontal areas, currents, temperatures."

One of these relationships occurs with the turtles. The team has determined that turtles occupy the warmer sides of frontal areas regardless of where these frontal areas may be. According to Levenson, these fronts pulse out from the Mobile area where fresh water intermixes with salt water—a very complicated area oceanographically.

Turtles are not the only marine mammals to take advantage of the frontal boundaries. The food chain is definitely at work where upwelling of different water densities occur at frontal areas.

Zooplankton, phytoplankton and first and second level trophic (food) fish are part of the food chain for the marine mammals. Data is being collected to determine if there are any preferred temperatures where these animals occur, where they might occur, and their numbers.

Visual observations, sonobuoys and airborne expendable bathythermographs (AXBTs) are the primary sources of detection. The sonobuoys are used to hear the mammals, record their sounds and determine the population.

"Last year we heard marine mammals on approximately 30 percent of the sonobuoys," remarked Levenson, "and these were times when we didn't see any."

This indicates that even though the area studied is small, the population is greater than that detected visually.

He said we try to determine how many there are both visually and acoustically, then we try to relate that to the oceanographic parameters, basically temperatures."

The AXBTs are used to determine water temperature versus depth, which allows the researchers to construct ray plots of sound transmission to get some idea of the maximum distance sonobuoys can detect cetaceans.

A library of "sounds," acquired from tapes made by different investigators, assists the team in identifying the species. Comparisons are made between these "known" sounds and those recorded from the sonobuoys.

Initially, the team would fly a fixed flight path off Mobile, but the study has expanded such that the team now follows the frontal areas and are discovering a lot more animals as a result. The team uses advanced very high resolution radiometer (AVHRR) satellite data to detect the general frontal area.

An infermetrics 760 radiometer system designed by Anderson and mounted face down in a twin-engine aircraft, remotely measures sea surface temperature to determine the exact location of frontal areas.

These data, including positions determined by a Global Positioning System, are recorded real time (now) on a lap top computer.

Models for predicting areas where high densities of these species occur are not currently available. The information collected from this project could be used to create a model that would alert shipping traffic and commercial fishermen to these populated areas, thus minimizing contact with threatened or endangered marine animals.

The SBA's Microloan program is designed to provide start-up capital of up to $25,000. That money can be used for machinery and equipment, furniture and fixtures, inventory, supplies and working capital.

The loan funds may not be used to pay existing debts but can be used to expand an existing business.

Many would-be entrepreneurs need $25,000 or less to establish a small business. Unfortunately, banks have traditionally avoided making such business loans because they are less profitable to administer.

Virtually all types of businesses are eligible for a microloan. To be eligible, the veteran's business would have to be operated for profit and fall within the size standards set by the SBA.

As a loan applicant, the veteran would have to demonstrate good character, enough management expertise and commitment for a successful operation, and show that there is a reasonable assurance that the loan will be repaid.

A loan must be repaid on the shortest term possible—no longer than six years—depending on the earnings of the business. The interest rates on these loans cannot be higher than four percent over the New York prime rate.

Further information on the Microloan Program can be obtained by contacting Harry Bowie, Delta Foundation, Greenville, MS 38703, or call 1-335-5291.

Admission to Pearl River is simple

ADMISSION TO PEARL RIVER

Pearl River Community College is committed to providing high quality educational opportunities to all qualified applicants. PRC does not discriminate against or exclude any prospective student from participating in any educational program or activity of the college on the basis of race, religion, color, national origin, sex, age, marital status, or disability. Pearl River is in compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; Title IX, Educational Amendments of 1972 of the Higher Education Act; Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. For information regarding Title VI and Title IX or for information regarding ADA please contact Dr. Miller Hammill, Dean of Student Affairs.

All applicants who have met admission requirements will be considered for acceptance to the college. General Admission to Pearl River does not guarantee admission to a specific program offered by the college. Additional requirements for specific programs should be studied to determine eligibility for acceptance in that particular program.

GENERAL ADMISSION PROCEDURES

The Admissions Office at Pearl River Community College is located in the Administration Building on the campus in Poplarville. Applications for Admission and other forms and information are available in the Admissions Office from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. on weekdays. This office receives and processes all applications, high school transcripts, transfer college transcripts, GED certificates, and other documents related to admission to Pearl River Community College. Information may be requested from or documents may be mailed to:

LATE ADMISSION

Students who are currently enrolled in High School must have completed 17 high school units, must have a composite score of 18 or greater on the ACT, and must furnish a letter of recommendation from their high school principal before they can be considered for early admission to Pearl River.

Academic, Technical, Vocational

Students are classified in one of three broad areas of instruction with regard to the educational goals that they are pursuing.

ACADEMIC students are students who are taking classes that lead to the Associate in Arts degree (AA). The Associate in Arts degree program is designed to provide a variety of educational experiences which acquaint the student with the liberal arts disciplines of writing, mathematics, humanities and fine arts, science, social science, communication, and physical education. In general, academic students intend to transfer their work completed at Pearl River to a college or university and have the work apply toward a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree.

TECHNICAL students are students who are taking classes that lead to the Associate of Applied Science (AAS). The Associate of Applied Science degree combines a foundation of basic academic courses with intensive training in a specific area of instruction, and course work is designed to provide the graduate with the specific technical training needed for employment after completion of the degree.

VOCATIONAL students are students who are taking classes that lead to the Certificate of Proficiency. The Certificate of Proficiency is a validation that the student has completed an intensive, full-time schedule of training in a specific skill area.

In order to be admitted as an Academic, Technical or Vocational student, the following documents must be submitted:

1. Pearl River application for admission.
2. Official transcript from an accredited high school indicating date of graduation or GED test transcript indicating passing.
3. Official transcript from every college attended.
4. ACT scores for academic or technical students (See Admission Testing below).

NOTIFICATION OF ADMISSION

After the application is received, Pearl River develops an admission file on the student and begins correspondence indicating receipt of documents and/or deficiencies. All students, regardless of full- or part-time status, must meet admission requirements prior to registration for classes. A letter of acceptance or denial will be mailed to all applicants after all admission criteria has been met.

All students who have met admission requirements will be considered for admission to the college. Admission to the college does not guarantee admission to a specific program. Students must determine the requirements for admission to a specific program to see if they are eligible to enroll in that program.

TRANSFER ADMISSION

Any student may transfer from an accredited institution and expect to have consideration of previous academic experiences, provided he/she meets the admission requirements of Pearl River stated under "General Admission." The following policies in regard to transfer work will apply:

1. Credit earned from an institution that is not regionally accredited will not be accepted.
2. Official copies of AP or CLEP scores must be provided by the student in order for them to be evaluated.
3. Transfer work is not posted to the Pearl River transcript until the student has completed at least 15 semester hours at Pearl River.
4. All credit earned at regionally accredited colleges is posted to the Pearl River transcript; however, acceptance of the work toward a degree is subject to the following considerations.
 - a. Course must be equivalent to Pearl River course in content, description, and length.
 - b. The grade in the transfer course must be a "C" or better. If the student's overall transfer average is above 2.00, a grade of "D" may be considered.
 - c. Technical or Vocational transfer work is subject to the approval of the program faculty and the Director of the Vocational/Technical center where the student wishes to enroll.

Transfer students seeking admission to the Associate Degree Nursing Program should review ADN Policy on Transfer Admission later in this section of the catalog.

ADMISSION TESTING

Students who are taking courses in an Academic or Technical program must furnish results of the American College Test (ACT). All references to the ACT refer to the Enhanced version of the test. The Enhanced version of the ACT was administered beginning in October 1989. Students who completed the ACT prior to October 1989 may still use their results for admission purposes. ACT scores are used for placement in classes and for academic and technical counseling. (See Developmental Course Placement Criteria). There is no minimum score for general admission to the college; however, specific programs may require minimum scores for admission.

ACT scores are not required for vocational students. The Test of Basic Education (TABE) is administered to all vocational students prior to enrollment in vocational classes.

Welcome to Pearl River

By Dr. Ted Alexander, President
 Pearl River Community College

Please allow me to express my appreciation for this opportunity to show you, through this document, Mississippi's pioneer two-year institution—Pearl River Community College.

Since 1908, when the first cornerstone was laid for the first building on this campus, the Board of Trustees, faculty and staff at PRC have dedicated their efforts to providing quality post-secondary education to the residents of South Mississippi.

While our original mission has remained constant, improvements and additions to our curriculum and programs have placed Pearl River Community College at the forefront of quality education in our region.

Presently, almost eight million dollars in new facilities, renovations, additions and improvements are assisting us in implementing quality offerings in academic, vocational and technical education.

It is our desire to assist you in any and every way possible to achieve your goals and objectives. You may be sure that we will continue to critically evaluate what we make available to you as a student in order that your future will be enhanced as a result of your attendance here, and that the quality of your experience with us will be exemplary.

As a PRC student, you are our first priority, and we are absolutely dedicated to making your educational experience on this campus meaningful and lasting.

Examine this booklet closely; through it you will see that all students have an opportunity to experience diversity, educational excellence and personal growth.

As President of Mississippi's pioneer two-year post secondary institution, I am pleased to extend to you an invitation to visit Pearl River Community College and discover how PRC can truly enhance the quality of your life.

FALL REGISTRATION AUGUST 18-19

Campus life offers plenty

While education is taken very seriously at Pearl River, classroom work is only one part of the rewarding experience of college life.

For many students that first step away from home is made as a dorm resident, adjusting to all the new freedoms and responsibilities of adulthood. With newly renovated and fully air conditioned rooms, along with a concerned security staff, Pearl River's dorm policies are tailored to make that transition easier.

Life at college should also be fun, and at PRC we have a strong student activities program which sponsors dances, movies, intramural competitions ranging from chess to flag football and other social events.

We also have a large number of very active professional and social organizations, including the national recognized Phi Theta Kappa honor society, Phi Beta Lambda for business students, VICA, the Baptist Student Union, and the state's best collegiate newspaper, the Dixie Drawl.

While many of our students come from the six-county district Pearl River serves (Forrest, Hancock, Jefferson Davis, Lamar, Marion, and Pearl River), students from all across the nation attend Pearl River and one of the nicest experiences a student has at Pearl River is making new friends, the kind that will last a lifetime.

FALL REGISTRATION AUGUST 18-19

Financial aid changes go into effect in fall

Two major changes in the student financial aid policy that will take effect this fall semester will greatly affect students who will return to PRC next year, announced Financial Aid Director Mike Dobbins.

The first change will require full-time students taking 12 hours or more who receive federal financial aid to pass a minimum of six semester hours. Dobbins said the change is a part of the college's "satisfactory academic progress" policy, required by the Department of Education.

Part-time students will be required to pass 50 percent of the hours they attempt for the semester. Dobbins said students who fail to meet this requirement will be placed on financial aid suspension and will not be eligible for student assistance for the following semester.

The current policy requires students to pass a minimum of three hours to remain eligible for federal financial aid.

Another policy change is regarding financial aid deferments. Students take advantage of deferments to complete registration when their financial aid files are incomplete and unable to be awarded by registration. The financial aid office issues deferments to those students unable to pay one-third of their fees at the time of registration. Deferments allow students to "charge" their fees until they find out if they are eligible for financial aid.

This policy change, however, will require students to pay a $25 fee at registration in order for a fee deferment to be accepted by the Business Office. The fee will not be charged to the student's account but must be paid in cash at registration.

"There are two reasons for this change," Dobbins said. "To encourage students to apply early and to be awarded before school starts, and to reduce the financial risk to the college that occurs when students register without their financial aid eligibility reports."

Dobbins said his office processes about 500 deferments during fall registration.

Students are encouraged to contact the Financial Aid Office if they have any questions regarding the various programs available on our campus.

New courses aimed at helping students succeed

One of the most difficult problems facing recent high school graduates is adjusting to college life.

After four years of mastering the high school way of life, college becomes a strange, world of new faces, more intense course work, greater demands and a whole new approach to social life.

Pearl River Community College will offer two new courses in the fall to help students better adjust and succeed in college life, and to assist them in becoming more confident.

Both courses -- "college success skills" and "self affirmation" -- are worth three credit hours and are open to any student wishing to enroll, said Dr. Wes Estey, dean of academics at Pearl River.

"These courses offer the many issues college students need to understand," Estey said. "As students attend college, they mature and learn those techniques through experience. This course will teach them at a much faster rate."

Estey said "college success skills" teaches students how to adjust to college life, how to study, how to prepare for tests, how to use the library, and more. Estey said this course zeros in more on the practical aspects of school work.

"Self Affirmation" is a psychology course that focuses more on developing short-term, long-term goals and self actuality and deals with self confidence and social life.

Estey said both courses are transferable. Students enrolling at Pearl River Community College can sign up for the courses at early registration.

FALL REGISTRATION AUGUST 18-19

PEARL RIVER COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Students can choose from a variety of activities

For those students who wish to be involved in campus activities, Pearl River offers a host of opportunities. We have an outstanding athletic program, fielding teams in football, men's and women's basketball, baseball, softball, golf and tennis.

And whether it be on the football field or baseball diamond, the Wildcats stand aside for no one. But athletics is not the only area where we excel. Our Spirit of the River band and String of Pearls drill team and RiverRoad showchoir are all among the best in the state.

Education is top priority

The faculty, staff and administration at Pearl River Community College never forget their primary function -- educating students.

At many colleges instructors must juggle heavy class loads and are often involved in research projects, which means that teaching duties are sometimes left up to graduate assistants.

At PRC all academic instructors hold at least a master's degree and their only job is to work with students. The smaller student-to-teacher ratio also means that students get more individual attention here than at some larger schools.

Instructors at Pearl River are demanding; they expect a lot from their students. But they are also understanding and helpful.

Admission is simple

Admission to Pearl River can be accomplished in the following way:

1. Complete an application for admission and return it to the Office of Admissions, Pearl River Community College, Station A, Poplarville, MS 39470.
2. Have a copy of your high school transcript forwarded directly from the last high school attended to PRC. If you have previously attended college, a copy of the official transcript must be forwarded to PRC. An official transcript must be sent from every college attended.
3. Academic or technical students must send an official copy of ACT scores to the Admissions Office of the college. Residual test scores furnished by other colleges will not be accepted. There is no minimum score required for admission; however, test scores will be used in counseling and placement.

Vocational students are required to furnish scores from the Test of Adult Basic Education (TABE). Contact the Vocational Counselor for a testing schedule for the TABE.

Additional information about financial aid, college housing, transportation and student activities is available from the Office of Student Affairs, Pearl River Community College, Station A, Poplarville MS 39470 or by calling (601) 795-6801 Ext. 215.

Pearl River Students Pickup National Awards

Two Pearl River Community College students have won national awards.

Kim Stockstill of Picayune, a freshman marketing technology major, placed first in Human Resources competition at the National Delta Epsilon Chi conference held recently in Orlando.

A few days later Ronald Miller of Purvis placed first in the Masonry Occupational Skills competition at the National Vocational Industrial Clubs of America conference in Louisville, Kentucky.

Stockstill competed against community colleges, universities and other colleges from across the nation. Delta Epsilon Chi is a marketing fraternity for college students throughout the nation. Carol Williams is the PRC marketing instructor.

Miller, who is employed by a firm in Bogalusa, and Stockstill were also recognized by the PRC Board of Trustees. Charles Rester is the instructor of the PRC masonry department.

"Kim and Ronald represented PRC and our state well," said Dr. James Sones, dean of vocational - technical education. "I'm proud of their accomplishments."

Many students participate in college intramurals

Pearl River Community College provides a wide range of intramural activities. During the past school year almost 500 students participated in a dozen sports which are designed especially for those outside the intercollegiate competition.

Intramural sports offered include billiards, ping pong, volleyball, flag football, basketball, softball, darts, cards, and various board games such as checkers, chess and dominos. The competition is open to both male and female students.

Other major events sponsored by the Department of Student Activities include the annual Bloomer Bowl and Everything Goes competition.

The following breakdown demonstrates the high student involvement in intramural activities on campus.

POPLARVILLE VOCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Pearl River Students Receive National Awards

Two Pearl River Community College students have won national awards.

Kim Stockstill of Picayune, a freshman marketing technology major, placed first in Human Resources competition at the National Delta Epsilon Chi conference held recently in Orlando.

A few days later Ronald Miller of Purvis placed first in the Masonry Occupational Skills competition at the National Vocational Industrial Clubs of America conference in Louisville, Kentucky.

Stockstill competed against community colleges, universities and other colleges from across the nation. Delta Epsilon Chi is a marketing fraternity for college students throughout the nation. Carol Williams is the PRC marketing instructor.

Miller, who is employed by a firm in Bogalusa, and Stockstill were also recognized by the PRC Board of Trustees. Charles Rester is the instructor of the PRC masonry department.

"Kim and Ronald represented PRC and our state well," said Dr. James Sones, dean of vocational - technical education. "I'm proud of their accomplishments."

Student newspaper wins first in national contest

Pearl River Community College's student newspaper, The Dixie Drawl, won first place with special merit in the national 1993 Scholastic Newspaper Awards contest sponsored by the American Scholastic Press Association.

The Drawl, winner of 18 general excellence awards in the Mississippi Community/Junior College Press Association, was the only community college newspaper in Mississippi to win in this national competition. The Drawl won the MCJCPA general excellence award this year.

The PRC paper was among five community college newspapers in the nation to win the highest award for community college schools with enrollments of 2501 and above.

"ASPA's recognition of Special Merit indicates that The Dixie Drawl is one of the best newspapers to cross this judge's desk," said a judge in this year's competition.

Along with The Dixie Drawl, the other four community college winners of first place with special merit were: Front Page, Front Range Community College, Westminster, Colorado; Falcon Times, Miami-Dade County Community College, Miami, Fla.; Campus Report, Middlesex Community College, Bedford, Ma.; and Sage, Miramar College, San Diego, Calif.

PRC, USM-Gulf Park offer Two Plus Two

The University of Southern Mississippi-Gulf Park, in cooperation with Pearl River Community College, has designed bachelor's degree programs in which the lower division work is taken through Pearl River and the upper division work is completed at USM-Gulf Park. This concept has been formalized in the Two Plus Two agreement between the participating institutions.

One of the many advantages of the Two Plus Two concept is that it assures a smooth transition for students who transfer from Pearl River to USM-Gulf Park.

In order to ensure a smooth transition from Pearl River to USM-Gulf Park, call Pearl River Community College's Poplarville campus.
